VICTORY GARDENS

Grow delicious food the easy way with sturdy container gardens.

Good for you... good for your family... good for America!

Of all the celebrated nostalgic markers of our World Wars, few are as memorable as America's Victory Gardens. Twenty million Americans answered the call, all in the name of patriotism. Gardening was a family and community event, producing over 9 million tons of fresh vegetables. As commercial canned goods were directed to the war effort and supporting our troops, the contributions of Americans, young and old, made a huge contribution to the war effort.

Today as we travel through supply chain shortages and increasing costs, our gardens are so very important to our everyday lives. They provide healthy exercise, stretch the food budget, provide fresh and nutritious products, create a feeling of accomplishment and improve our quality of life.

Container gardening is an increasingly popular way for home gardeners to grow their favorite vegetables, especially when gardening space is limited. Garden Gallery is proud to manufacture a complete line of Victory Garden containers, manufactured with recycled metal. Drop by our store, email us at info@gardengalleryironworks.net or give us a call and "Let's Chat About Your Garden!"
